DETAILED ACTION

1. This application is in condition for allowance except for the following formal matters: In claim 6, line 5, step (b) is referred, however, the description relates more to step (e). Clarification is required. In claim 15, a “,” should be inserted after the term “internal nodes” to clarify the meaning of the clause. In claim 19, line 2, “form” should be changed to ----from---- to reflect the correct spelling.

Prosecution on the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

A shortened statutory period for reply to this action is set to expire TWO MONTHS from the mailing date of this letter.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: All the claims are allowable over the prior art of record because prior art fail to teach or fairly suggest 1) a method for determining an output port corresponding to the next hop node by constructing a data structure based on a plurality of variable-length network address prefixes; traversing a data structure based on bits in an input address to determine a location in the data structure corresponding to the longest network address prefix that matches the input address; and determining, based on the location in the data structure, an offset in the second memory device for the output port identifier corresponding to the input address, 2) a method for determining an output port identifier corresponding to a network address of the next hop node by traversing a trie data structure based on bits in an input network address and determining a location in the data structure based on the bits in the input network address; maintaining a count of a number of bits having a first value before the location in the trie data structure; and determining, based on the number of bits having the first value, an offset for extracting an output port identifier from a memory device, and 3) a fast packet forwarding engine comprising a first memory storing a trie data structure corresponding to variable-length network address prefixes, the trie data structure including a plurality of leaf nodes at locations corresponding to variable-length network address prefixes; a second memory storing output port identifiers; and a processor for determining the location of a leaf node in the trie data structure based on bits in an input address, and for determining an offset for extracting an output port identifier from the second memory device based on the location.

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The Waters et al. patent, the Carr patent, the Filippi et al. patent, the Wilkinson, III et al. patent, the Rekhter patent, the Rochberger patent, and the Hunter et al. patent are cited for further references.
